Certificate According to KTA 1401 Standard

To our customers,

The KTA certificate currently available in our download area has expired.

Nonetheless, we would like to assure you that U.I. Lapp GmbH remains certified in compliance with "KTA 1401" standard. We have received written confirmation from the certifier verifying this; however, the final, updated certificate is not yet available to us in the usual format.

As soon as we receive the new certificate, valid until 20.06.2026, it will be accessible in our download area as usual.

In the meantime, please consider this communication as a preliminary confirmation of certification.

For additional documentation, we have attached the expired certificate to this letter.
